Situated Writing as Theory and Method

The Untimely Academic Novella

Mona Livholts, Linköping University, Sweden

Series: Routledge Advances in Research Methods

This book is an inter- and trans-disciplinary book in which a diversity of forms are used to create a set of interwoven novellas, inspired by poststructuralist and postcolonial feminist theory and literary fiction, along with narrative life writing genres such as diaries and letters, memory work, poetic writing and photography. It makes use of a politics of location, situated knowledges, diffraction and intersectionality theories to promote situated writing as a theory and method for exploring the complexity of social life through gender, whiteness, class and spatial location. It is useful for researchers, teachers, postgraduate and PhD students in feminist and intersectionality studies, narrative studies, and pursuing interdisciplinary approaches across the humanities, social sciences, design, and the arts to inspire a theory and method for situated writing.
